

Jon Poke

JON'S
RESERVE

I've been patiently developing a unique farming technique; I've failed more often than I care to remember and after some 30 odd years of blood, sweat and tears, I've finally nailed it.

The hard-fought knowledge and meticulous craftsmanship invested, and the precious, exclusive provenance of these oysters is the culmination of my life's work.

I've been handing this over to the next generation - my son Josh, nephew Jarrad and our other farm managers are now the custodians of my long held and tightly guarded secrets.

What we've done is develop oysters of unrivaled elegance; a silky-smooth texture and complex richness that I've never experienced in oysters anywhere else in the world.

THIS IS MY RESERVE.
